ABOUT ETHOS

We don't offer jobs—we offer careers.

We're a dynamic, veteran-owned, growing civil site design company in the Pacific Northwest serving broad markets and clients in Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana.

We're building a different kind of company where we treat others the way we'd like to be treated, and place a premium on financial transparency and building trust, making ownership in the company broadly available to align ownership and team-focused culture. Further alignment between career development and efficiency is encouraged by our aggressive all-in-compensation strategy that offers 401(k) matching, profit sharing, stock options, and biannual bonuses for full-time employees.

We value integrity, self-motivation, eagerness to learn, an intrapreneurial mindset and a positive attitude. We don't offer jobs – we offer careers marked by professional development, growing responsibility and commensurate financial rewards.
